RESEARCH PARTICIPATION OPPORTUNITY

I am looking for 5-10 students who are willing to participate in a qualitative interview about how you engage with data reasoning through the media in your every day lives. I want to find out from you, what are the places (social media, or television, or digital print/news) that you engage with data, and how your background has influenced that action. I also want to discuss how the CALLING BULLSHIT class has influenced that practice for you.

This will give you an opportunity to participate in research first hand with a minimal amount of effort on your part.

All Students are welcome
